INTRODUCTION

R. L. POLK & CO., publishers of the San Francisco City Directory, as well as more than 750 other city, county, state and national directories, present to subscribers and the general public, this, the 1944 edition of the San Francisco City Directory.

Confidence in the growth of San Francisco's wealth, industry and population, and in the advancement of its municipal and social activities, will be created as sections of this directory are consulted, for the directory is a mirror truly reflecting San Francisco to the world.

The enviable place occupied by R. L. POLK & CO.'S directories in offices, stores, libraries and homes throughout the country has been established by rendering the best in directory service. With an unrivaled organization, having the courteous and hearty cooperation of the business and professional men and residents, the publishers feel that the result of their labors will meet with the approval of every user, and that the San Francisco Directory will fulfill its mission as a source of authentic information pertaining to the city.

FIVE MAJOR DEPARTMENTS

The several essential departments are arranged in the following order:

THE INDEX TO ADVERTISERS, pages 8 and 9, on white paper, is an alphabetical list of the San Francisco commercial, industrial and professional concerns that have demonstrated their confidence in the City Directory as an advertising medium, and thereby insured its regular publication.

THE STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE is embraced in pages 17 to 38, on white paper; in this department a list of Postal Delivery Units is followed by the names of all streets and avenues arranged alphabetically, giving beginning and ending, and line of general direction.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of residents, business firms and corporations is included in pages 41 to 1736, on white paper. Home property ownership is indicated by the character ®, placed immediately after the residence address.

THE BUYERS' GUIDE, beginning opposite page 1736, and separately paged from 1 to 128, on goldenrod paper, contains the advertisements of leading manufacturing, business and professional interests of San Francisco. These pages will be found particularly interesting and instructive to substantial purchasing factors. The advertisements have been carefully grouped by departments and are indexed under headings descriptive of the business represented. This is reference advertising at its best, and, as such, merits a survey by all buyers anxious to familiarize themselves with sources of supply. The city's activities, in many interesting phases, are authentically pictured. In an ambitious and progressive community like San Francisco, the necessity of having this kind of information available is very great and, frequently, pressing. General appreciation of this fact is evidenced by the liberal support the city directory enjoys in the many fields which it serves.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is included in pages 1737 to 1900, on white paper. This department lists the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional interests in alphabetical order under appropriate headings. This feature constitutes an invaluable and indispensable epitome of the business interests of the community. "The Directory is the common intermediary between Buyer and Seller." As such it plays no small part in the daily doings of the business world. "More goods are bought and sold through the Classified Business Directory than through any other medium."

MUNICIPAL PUBLICITY

The directory reflects the achievements and ambitions of the city, depicting in truthful terms what it has to offer as a place of residence, as a business location, as an industrial site and as an educational center. To broadcast this information, the publishers have placed copies of this issue of the directory in Directory Libraries, where they are readily available for free public reference and serve as perpetual and reliable advertisements of San Francisco, for business men, everywhere, realize that the city directory represents a community as it really is.

THE SAN FRANCISCO CITY DIRECTORY LIBRARY

Through the courtesy of the publishers of the San Francisco City Directory, a Directory Library is maintained in the offices of the publishers at 604 Mission street, for free reference by the general public. This library is one of the system of more than 500 installed and operated in the chief cities of the U. S. and Canada, under the supervision of the Association of North American Directory Publishers, of which R. L. Polk & Co. is a member.

The publishers appreciatively acknowledge the recognition by those progressive business and professional men who have demonstrated their confidence in the city directory as an advertising medium, with assurance that it will bring a commensurate return.

R. L. POLK & CO., Publishers.

SAN FRANCISCO

(Prepared by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce)

HISTORICAL

San Francisco is located centrally on the coast in 37° 47′ 22-25″ N. Latitude and 122° 25′ 40-76″ W. Longitude and situated on a peninsula bounded on the west by the Pacific Ocean, the north and east by the Bay of San Francisco and on the south by wooded hills and fertile valleys. Its elevation extends from sea level to 938 feet. The city covers an area of about 44.82 square miles and is built principally on hills. The population as of April 1, 1940, amounted to 634,536 (U. S. Census). Resident population, April 1, 1944, 700,735.

The San Francisco Bay Region was discovered in July, 1769, by Don Gaspar de Portola's soldiers, who were seeking the Monterey Bay. In 1775 Don Manuel Ayala sailed the first ship through the Golden Gate into the San Francisco Bay. The San Carlos was the name of the vessel.

Years before, however, Sir Francis Drake brought his vessel, the Golden Hind, close to the Golden Gate and ran her ashore at what is now known as Drake's Bay. This was in 1579 and the first religious service in the English language was held on the Pacific Coast by the chaplain of the Golden Hind.

In 1776 a land expedition commanded by Colonel Juan Bautista de Anza arrived on the San Francisco peninsula and established the Presidio and the Mission Dolores. In 1777 Padre Junipero Serra, father of the California missions, arrived in San Francisco. The settlement was known as Yerba Buena until 1847, when it became San Francisco.

In 1806 the Russians attempted to establish themselves in and about San Francisco. They established a settlement at Fort Ross, near Santa Rosa, but after a few years gave it up, disposing of all movable fixtures and arms to Capt. John A. Sutter of Sacramento.

In 1846 war was declared by the United States on Mexico and on July 9, 1848, Capt. John B. Montgomery of the United States Navy arrived in the sloop-of-war "Portsmouth" and raised the American flag in what is now Portsmouth Square; thus without great excitement San Francisco passed from Spanish to Mexican and finally American rule.

San Francisco's greatest excitement perhaps came with the discovery of gold in 1848. People rushed here by every known mode of transportation and in thousands. The population increased steadily and the port became the most important on the Pacific Coast, which position it has steadily maintained.

Because of the number of lawless individuals during the fifties, the citizens organized the Vigilance Committee and after a short campaign succeeded in ridding the city of the law breakers.

GOVERNMENT

San Francisco has a combined City and County Government functioning as a Municipal Corporation, which began January 8, 1932, to operate under a new Charter (Freeholders). Under this new Charter the Legislative Powers are vested in a Board of Supervisors consisting of 11 members. The Administrative Powers are vested in a Mayor and a Chief Administrative Officer, the latter appointed by the Mayor. The People elect the Mayor, Assessor, Treasurer, Sheriff, Public Defender, Supervisors, District Attorney, City Attorney, Municipal and Superior Court Judges and the members of the Board of Education.

The salary of the Mayor is $10,000 per year and the major Departments under him include the Police, Fire, Park, Recreation, and Library, the Art Commission, the Utilities Commission, Civil Service Commission, and City Planning Commission.

The Chief Administrative Officer, appointed by the Mayor, receives a salary of $12,000 a year and has under him the following: Departments of Finance and Records, Purchasing, Real Estate, Department of Public Works, Department of Electricity, Street Traffic Advisory Board, Department of Public Health, County Welfare Department, Coroner's Office, Horticultural Inspection Department, and Department of Weights and Measures.

The Controller is responsible to the Mayor and is appointed by him subject to the confirmation and approval of the Board of Supervisors.

HARBOR AND COMMERCE

Centered in the San Francisco Bay Area, San Francisco is an important port of general commerce, handling a large and valuable domestic and foreign trade. Today it is one of the major embarkation centers for the nation's war activity. It is the main gateway of commerce for the vast territory of the Central Pacific Coast Area and Intermountain States. The Bay extends from the Golden Gate to the confluence of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers on the northeast, and to a point near San Jose on the south, covering an area of 450 square miles. The deep-water commerce enters San Francisco Bay through the Golden Gate, which is but one mile wide, thus affording natural protection from the ocean to the waters of the San Francisco Bay. To this has been added the most comprehensive docking and berthing facilities, rail and freight connections, modern and well-equipped warehouses, etc. San Francisco harbor has 17.5 miles of berthing space; there are 195.62 acres of pier and wharf area, with a capacity of 4,719,000 tons of cargo; 43 modern piers; facilities to dock the largest vessels; seven drydocks; 160 spur tracks; 51 miles of harbor trackage connecting piers and warehouses; car capacity for 3600 cars; 42 cranes, derricks and aerials.

The harbor is controlled by the State of California and is governed by a board of harbor commissioners appointed by the Governor. Of the 43 piers, during peace-times most of them are assigned to steamship companies having their own fleets and operating their own schedules. San Francisco harbor facilities are valued at more than $100,000,000.

The water-borne commerce of San Francisco ranked second in value of all ports in the United States and third in tonnage, and outranking all other Pacific Coast ports by more than 12,000,000 cargo tons in 1940 (latest available).

Exports during 1940 amounted to........	$113,683,277
Imports during 1940 amounted to........	$ 98,305,839

The principal exports by value have been bulk oil, dried and canned fruits, cotton, machine parts, barley, fresh fruits, auto parts, canned fish and lead.

The principal imports have been coffee, copra, Chinese wood oil, paper, burlap and raw silk.

The 1941 report of the U. S. Army Engineers shows the distribution of the cargo tonnage, domestic and foreign, during 1940 as follows:

Total tonnage, San Francisco Bay	30,863,291	Tons
Foreign tonnage	3,641,922	"
Inland waterway tonnage	8,272,193	"
Domestic Coastwise tonnage	18,918,176	"

Besides the movement of commodities by water, there is a large rail traffic in San Francisco; during 1943 it reached 350,815 carloadings and unloadings, not including less-than-carload business.

San Francisco is also the ocean port for the great inland empire of California, 500 miles in length, 50 miles wide and containing 16,100,000 acres of irrigable land, 5,000,000 acres of which is under irrigation.

San Francisco is normally a port of call for 177 steamship lines.

TRANSPORTATION

Converging in San Francisco are seven major transcontinental rail routes, under normal conditions one hundred seventy-seven steamship lines, more than forty common carrier truck lines, four transcontinental bus services and four major airlines of the world.

Today San Francisco is the terminus of four Class I railroads and a number of short lines. These railroads thoroughly blanket California and neighboring States, and by means of seven major transcontinental routes with convenient connections, provide fast, dependable service to and from all parts of the United States, Canada, and Mexico. Passenger trains second to none are operated to and from the city.

All railroads connect with the State Belt Railroad serving the San Francisco waterfront and many industries, and absorb the switching charges on line haul carload traffic. Reciprocal arrangements between all lines permit efficient handling of cars within the switching limits. Trap car privileges are available. Between all points in the San Francisco switching limits and those of Oakland and Richmond the rate is 75c per ton, minimum charge $16.50 per car.

Overnight freight service, provided to Los Angeles, to most points in the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys, to numerous points along the coast, to southern Oregon and western Nevada is temporarily discontinued due to war conditions but is to be resumed on a more effective basis after the war.

A greater proportion of the territory west of the Rocky Mountains is reached to advantage from San Francisco than from any other Pacific Coast port.

Store door pick-up and delivery for less than carload traffic is available between San Francisco and many points in Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Idaho and Oregon.

Intercoastal water rates bring San Francisco as close to the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts as Chicago and northern Mississippi Valley points; with frequent sailings to Atlantic Coast ports and to Gulf ports under normal conditions.

Departures for the Hawaiian Islands average 20 per month under normal conditions.

In normal times over fifty steamship lines operate between San Francisco and foreign ports providing frequent passenger and freight service to and from the major ports, in the Orient, Australia, New Zealand, the South Sea Islands, both coasts of Central and South America, Northern and Southern Europe and certain ports in Africa. Round-the-world liners call at San Francisco. San Francisco is the home port of some of the most luxurious passenger lines operating on the Pacific Coast.

Under normal peacetime conditions coastwise lines furnish frequent service between San Francisco and other ports in California, Oregon, Washington, and British Columbia. A huge fleet of inland water carriers ranging from palatial passenger steamers to humble barges navigate San Francisco Bay and waters tributary thereto, carrying an immense tonnage to and from the ultra-modern docks of the city.

San Francisco is the focal point of two great bridges, the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, a link in both U. S. Highways No. 40 and No. 50, and the Golden Gate Bridge, a link in U. S. Highway 101.

Over forty common carrier truck lines provide scheduled services between San Francisco and points in California and neighboring states. In addition, more than 600 truck operators having headquarters or agencies in San Francisco hold intrastate contract carrier, radial common carrier, or city carrier permits from the Railroad Commission of California or interstate contract carrier permits from the Interstate Commerce Commission. All rates and services are subject to regulation by these Commissions.

Bus lines which are also under regulation radiate north, east and south providing fast, commodious passenger service between San Francisco and all important points in California and the eleven Western states. There are also four transcontinental bus services. Sightseeing buses, which normally operate between San Francisco and neighboring points of interest, are temporarily discontinued, as are buses normally available for charter, except when in connection with the war effort.

Three modern air terminals in the San Francisco Bay Area are within thirty minutes of the heart of San Francisco. The recently enlarged Municipal Airport is the focal point of transcontinental and north/south services by the most modern transport planes. San Francisco is the terminus of four major air lines of the world. Three of these lines are maintaining regular service, although many planes are in the service of the nation. Plans are under way for development of air transportation to and from San Francisco on an unprecedented scale.

MANUFACTURES

The manufacturing industries in San Francisco comprise an important part of the city's activities, leading in number of employees and amount of payroll nine major activities in San Francisco. One-quarter of all the people engaged in industry and business in San Francisco are employed by the manufacturing industries. The 1943 estimated annual payroll amounted to $218,000,000 according to San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

The value of manufactures in 1941 amounted to $535,490,000, compared to $313,253,000 reported in 1939 by the United States Census, or an increase of $222,238,000 in the two years.

Many of the large key industries in the San Francisco Metropolitan Area, with their plants outside the corporate city limits, have their headquarters in San Francisco, from which they conduct their finances, purchases, and sales.

RETAIL TRADE AND SERVICE ESTABLISHMENTS

Retail trade, one of the major activities in San Francisco, ranks high in number of employees and amount of payroll among the various group activities. Sales in 1943 are estimated at $825,305,000 compared to 774,000,000 in 1942.

Trade at retail in San Francisco of 11,339 stores amounted to $383,554,000, according to 1939 U. S. Census reports, or 28.5 per cent above the 1935 sales, compared to 27 per cent in the nation. These stores reported 12,007 active proprietors of unincorporated businesses and 44,829 employees. The annual payroll amounted to $58,135,000.

The per capita in 1939 sales for San Francisco led all other important counties in California. The retail sales per capita in San Francisco amounted to $604, in Los Angeles to $520, and in the State to $462.

FINANCE

San Francisco is the financial and insurance capital of the West. The expeditious handling of financial transactions of all kinds has helped to maintain sound industrial and trade relations in San Francisco and throughout the West.

The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco is the headquarters of the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, which ranked third in volume of business during 1943 measured by bank debits.

Many hundreds of firms with national reputation have established their Western headquarters in San Francisco.

The San Francisco Stock Exchange, one of the major regional stock exchanges in the United States, is maintained in San Francisco. There is also the San Francisco Mining Exchange.

Six of the 19 banks in San Francisco are among the first 50 banks of the nation. Several of the banks operate branches and a few operate branch systems throughout the State. Of the 19 banks in San Francisco, 14 are under State supervision. Of these 14, 3 are commercial and savings, 1 strictly savings, 1 savings and trust, and 2 title insurance companies operating trust departments. There are 5 national banks, all of which operate trust departments. The trust departments are under State supervision.

San Francisco is the insurance center of the West. More than six and a quarter-billion dollars of life insurance is in force in California. More than 700 authorized insurance companies are doing business in California. The premiums and assessments of all groups amounted to $455,697,970 in 1941.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS

First comes the group in the Civic Center, declared by the Duke of Connaught to be the finest thing of its kind in the world. The group consists: (1) City Hall, of classic design, surmounted by an immense dome, higher than the dome of the Capitol at Washington: cost $4,000,000. (2) Exposition Auditorium, seating capacity of 12,000 in the main auditorium, with numerous small halls; cost, $2,000,000. (3) San Francisco Public Library; cost, $1,500,000. (4) State Building; cost $1,000,000. (5) War Memorial group of buildings, as a part of Civic Center; cost, $4,000,000, consisting of civic opera house, American Legion halls, etc. A Federal Building; cost, $3,000,000.

California Palace of the Legion of Honor, in Lincoln Park, overlooking the Golden Gate, is a replica of the Palace of the Legion of Honor in Paris. It was presented to the city. The structure cost $2,000,000. United States Mint, located at Market street and Duboce avenue, built in 1937; Post Office Building, corner of Seventh and Mission streets; Ferry Building, at the foot of Market street on the waterfront, built by the State in 1896 at a cost of $1,000,000. It is 659 feet long and 156 feet wide, and in addition to serving as a ferryboat terminal, contains many State offices. The Customs House and United States Appraiser's Building will represent an expenditure of more than $4,000,000. In Golden Gate Park are located the De Young Memorial Museum, Academy of Sciences, Steinhart Aquarium, Museum of Anthropology. At Kearny and Washington streets is the Hall of Justice, erected in 1910 at a cost of $1,000,000, containing police courts and the criminal department of the superior court. The Golden Gate Bridge cost $35,000,000, was completed early in 1937 and opened to traffic in May, 1937, and the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, at a cost of $78,000,000, was opened to vehicular traffic November 12, 1936. San Francisco East Bay Terminal (at Mission and First streets) is a $2,000,000 structure opened to interurban train service January 15, 1939. The $2,730,000 Rincon Annex Post Office was opened in 1940.

PARKS

San Francisco is noted for its beautiful and extensive parks. There are 53 parks and 94 recreational units, with a total acreage of 4450, others are under development. In addition to the municipal parks, the several government reservations, the largest of which is the Presidio, comprising 1542 acres, all go toward augmenting the aggregate area of the city parks. The area given does not include the numerous golf courses in and about the city. More than $15,000,000 has been expended on municipal parks since 1870. All of San Francisco's parks are "man-made." Originally only sand dunes marked the spots where today are gardens of rarest flowers, shrubs and giant trees. Even lakes, streams, waterfalls, hills, valleys and dales were worked out by man, to say nothing of the miles of walks, bridle paths and boulevards traversing the parks. Golden Gate Park is one of the world's most noted playgrounds. It comprises 1013 acres and is about 3 miles long and a half-mile wide, extending from Stanyan street on the east to the Pacific Ocean on the west and lies in the midst of San Francisco's choice residential districts.

*One company made a surplus adjustment in excess of $13,000,000 during year.

*Insurance premiums and assessments for workers' compensation jumped nearly $20,000,000 between 1941 and 1942, due to developments in war industries in state, while a drop of $11,000,000 occurred in the automobile division.

In the park are many museums, monuments, an aviary, aquarium, music temple, stadium, tennis courts, baseball grounds, football grounds, trotting and packing horse track, athletic field and running track paddocks, and children's playgrounds. There are more than 25 miles of improved driveways in the park. Wild animals of many species are to be seen, while every bird and squirrel known to California roams or flies at will through the dense woods and shrubbery. At the western end of the park is to be seen the sloop "Gjoa," the only vessel that ever navigated the Northwest Passage, and which was given to San Francisco by its owner and explorer, Captain Roald Amundsen, discoverer of the South Pole also; the gift was accepted by San Francisco June 16, 1909. The ship was hauled upon the beach and is protected by a high iron fence.

SOCIAL

San Francisco has more than 340 churches, representing many denominations. The congregations of the churches include people of many nationalities, such as English, German, Italian, French, Spanish, Scandinavian, Russian and Chinese.

There are numerous societies, clubs, lodges and fraternal groups beside the civic, historical, military, religious and sporting groups, San Francisco contains many foreign colonies, where the daily life and social events familiar to their native countries have been reestablished here.

The cosmopolitan character of San Francisco is well portrayed by the many interesting and diversified events which take place daily. The citizen or visitor may find many educational things of interest, such as lectures, concerts, readings, recitals, special exhibits of drawing, painting, sculpture, and other works of art.

There are two public art galleries and several semi-public galleries which offer exhibits and collections of national and international fame.

There is a main public library in the Civic Center with 21 branches and 6 depositories. This system has 550,000 volumes. There are nearly 100 private and special libraries, including technical and institutional. There are also numerous circulating libraries.

The Municipal Auditorium, with a seating capacity of 12,000, contains a magnificent organ and is in use for a variety of events daily throughout the year. The Civic Opera House and the War Memorial Building provide a home for opera, the symphony orchestra, and a permanent war relics museum. San Francisco is the first city in the nation to have a civic opera house. It has a seating capacity of 3285.

HEALTH

San Francisco is a clean city with a cool, bracing equable open-all-year-around climate. The daily mean maximum temperature is 62.6 degrees. The daily mean minimum temperature is 50.3 degrees. The average daily temperature range is 12.3 degrees.

The hours of fog over San Francisco Bay recorded by the Lighthouse Service averaged only 153 per year.

San Francisco is one of a few of nature's air-conditioned cities—relatively warm in winter and cool in summer. The long-time record of the Weather Bureau reveals the sun shines in San Francisco sixty-six of every one hundred possible hours.

POLK'S

CROCKER-LANGLEY

STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE

1944

EXPLANATIONS

In the following list the streets are arranged in alphabetical order.

According to the method adopted in this city for numbering buildings, Market Street is the starting point for numbers on all streets running from it in a northerly, southerly or westerly direction, and the water front for all streets running therefrom in a westerly or southwesterly direction. The numbers on all streets not commencing at Market Street or the water front run in conformity with the numbers of the main streets running parallel with them, except in the case of a few streets which are numbered in an irregular manner.

On all streets between the water front and Central Avenue the even numbers are on the right-hand side, and the odd numbers on the left, starting from the point of beginning. Beyond Central Avenue most of the streets have been numbered in a contrary manner. One hundred numbers, or as many thereof as are necessary, are allotted to each block bounded by main streets; for instance, Montgomery Street commences at Market, and the main streets crossing as you proceed north are Sutter, Bush, Pine, etc. Therefore, any numbers between 1 and 100 will be found on the right or left-hand side of the street between Market and Sutter, between 100 and 200 from Sutter to Bush, between 200 and 300 from Bush to Pine.

In the streets which are numbered, a dash (—) indicates that the cross street does not extend to that side; (o), the street borders on the bay, or public park, cemetery, etc., consequently there are no buildings on blocks thus designated; (c), the street is not opened through the block, or is interrupted in its course at that point by a public square, cemetery, etc.; (e), end of street.
